(1) Calculated using the average of the number of full-time employees at the beginning of the reporting period and the end of the reporting period.

Employee compensation and benefits expenses were $393 million for the first quarter ended June 30, 2025, compared with $330 million for the first quarter ended June 30, 2024. Adjusted employee compensation and benefits expenses were $372 million for the first quarter ended June 30, 2025, compared with $316 million for the first quarter ended June 30, 2024. This resulted in an adjusted compensation ratio of 61.5% for both the first quarter ended June 30, 2025 and June 30, 2024. The increase in GAAP and adjusted employee compensation and benefits expenses was primarily a result of an increase in revenues for the quarter when compared with the same quarter last year.

Non-compensation expenses were $123 million for the first quarter ended June 30, 2025, compared with $89 million for the first quarter ended June 30, 2024. The increase in GAAP non-compensation expenses was primarily a result of increases in revaluation of acquisition contingent consideration, depreciation and amortization, and other operating expenses. Adjusted non-compensation expenses were $94 million for the first quarter ended June 30, 2025, compared with $80 million for the first quarter ended June 30, 2024. The increase in adjusted non-compensation expenses was primarily a result of increases in other operating expenses and professional fees for the quarter when compared with the same quarter last year.

The provision for income taxes was $1 million, representing an effective tax rate of 0.5% for the first quarter ended June 30, 2025, compared with $11 million, representing an effective tax rate of 10.9%, for the first quarter ended June 30, 2024. The decrease in the Company's GAAP effective tax rate was primarily a result of increased stock-based compensation deductions. The adjusted (benefit)/provision for income taxes was ($1) million, representing an adjusted effective tax rate of (0.8)% for the first quarter ended June 30, 2025, compared with $38 million, representing an adjusted effective tax rate of 31.2% for the first quarter ended June 30, 2024. The decrease in the Company's adjusted effective tax rate was primarily a result of a policy change that we are no longer adjusting out the impact of stock-based compensation deductions. Had we not made the adjustment for stock-based compensation deductions to the first quarter ended June 30, 2024, our adjusted effective tax rate for the quarter would have been 9.3%.
